ACQUEFORTI DAL 1977

For over 40 years in the historic Oltrarno area of Florence, the studio of L'Ippogrifo Stampe d'Arte has created magnificent art etchings (acquaforte in Italian) using time-honored traditional techniques. Master artisan Gianni Raffaelli, working with his wife Francesca and son Duccio, hand-engraves original illustrations on copper plates and then prints limited editions of the images on high quality paper. These prints are then hand-painted, signed and numbered by the artist, keeping alive the tradition of old Florentine workshops.

THE TECHNIQUE OF ETCHING

Aqua fortis is the name traditionally given to nitric acid, well known for its corrosive qualities. Consequently the artistic prints produced using a metal plate engraved by means of an acid solution are known by the same name. The aqua fortis production process begins with an initial series of operations performed on the metal printing plate; after this the plate is inked and a copperplate press is used to press the moistened sheet of paper against it to produce the etching.

ORIGINAL PIECES OF ART

L'Ippogrifo Stampe d'Arte produces and sells only and exclusively original graphic pieces of art. Each work sold is accompanied by its certificate of authenticity:

- It guarantees that the matrix was created by hand by the author who signs the pieces
- It guarantees that each piece was printed by hand by the author with the press machine
- It guarantees that each colouring was in watercolour
- It guarantees the progressive numbering which mark the limited run

Every etching carries a dry mark depicting a Hippogriff.

GIANNI, FRANCESCA AND DUCCIO

Since 1977, we proudly preserve “acquaforte”, the 500-year-old traditional Florentine process for delightfully enhance your home.
